Examine: 'Beliefs' vs 'Loves'

“...our beliefs are revealed not by what we profess but how we live and orient our lives. A distorted [view of ourselves] suggests we are most shaped by what they think...This fails to capture the older biblical insight that we are mostly shaped by our loves...If we look at what churches and parachurch ministries measure for success—nickels, noses, and social media clicks—we begin to see the depth of our problem...

Examine: 'Beliefs' vs 'Loves'

...Where in our churches and ministries is the pattern reflective of the self-denying, self-sacrificing, “take up your cross daily” spirituality of Jesus? We have been left with a head-trip superficial overly politicized consumerist faith that does not get deeply embedded in our bodies or behavior.”
